THREE HORSES

Killed By a Strong Mixture of Croton Oil.

Mr. Jas. A. Radford lost three fine blooded horses a few days ago from poison. A veterinary surgeon from Indiana, who had been to see Mr. Radford, sent him back by mail a prescription to treat the horses for worms, containing croton oil, santanine, turpentine and other ingredients. He wrote down the wrong proportion of croton oil and the potion when administered to the three horses caused the speedy death of all of them. The animals were very valuable pacing stock and the loss is a heavy one.

CRUSOE'S ISLAND.

German Canning Firm Recently Leased It From Chile.

The Government of Chile has recently leased the island of Juan Fernandez, sacred to the memory of Robinson Crusoe, to a firm of Germans, who have erected a canning factory and are putting up fish, lobster and crabs for the South American market. They also have herds of cattle and goats on the ranges and ship a great deal of fresh beef to Valparaiso. The goats are raised for their skins and are descended from the animals that furnished food for Robinson Crusoe.

BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Gave No Advice About The Gubernatorial Contest.

Made A Speech To The Legislature Wednesday Making Some Suggestions.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—William J. Bryan was banqueted by the democrats of the Kentucky legislature Tuesday night. The banquet was also a celebration of the election of Senator Blackburn, Mr. Bryan arrived at 4:35 and was met at the train by a committee of which Senator Blackburn and Mr. Goebel were members. Ex-Gov. James B. McCreary presided as toastmaster at the banquet. The toasts responded to were as follows:
By Wm. Jennings Bryan. "The democratic party; its future and its politics;" Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, "Old Kentucky;" Senator Wm. Goebel, "Kentucky and her relations to the national democracy," W. J. Bryan.

In his speech, Mr. Bryan said he came not to be banqueted, but to rejoice with the democrats over Blackburn's election. However much he might be regarded as a repudiationist on the money question nobody should say he repudiated Blackburn.

On the subject of the Kentucky contest he said he had hoped Goebel's election would be as overwhelming as Blackburn's, and he said he had neither advised for nor against the contests, regarding this as a matter to be settled wholly by members of the legislature.

He referred to the Tilden-Hayes electoral commission and pointed to the fact that the Democrats of the country acquiesced in it though its decision was reached in a party vote. The decision of these contests, he said, should be likewise acquiesced in, no matter to which party the decision is given by the legislature.

The national platform in addition to containing a money plank should also contain planks against trusts and against imperialism.

Mr. Bryan addressed the members of the Legislature today just before the election of Blackburn. The chamber of the House of Representatives was never more crowded than when Representative Nelson introduced Mr. Bryan. The latter was accompanied by J. C. S. Blackburn and Senator Goebel. Mr. Bryan proposed two laws that he hoped would be enacted in Kentucky. One was to make it a felony for a corporation to contribute to campaign funds, and the other to prohibit betting on elections. He held that betting is bad morals and bad public policy. He believed that men often bet for fear of showing lack of confidence in their cause.

TOBACCO MARKET.

(Reported by J. H. Eggleston, of Cumming & Eggleston Co., (Incorporated,) buyer on order of dealer in and handler of leaf tobacco.)

The offering this week was composed of very poor nondescript tobacco and the condition was also bad, hence it apparently ruled lower on all leaf that was not in good condition.

Lugs ruled at previous prices of last week which are being brought up by speculations.

Receipts are rather light in bbls. but the receipts of loose is very large, taking the factories very heavy, unloading as fast as it comes in. The Loose market on wagons continues very firm and spirited, satisfactory prices to the sellers.

PREPARING PLANT LAND.

Number of Beds Now Ready for The Seed.

Many farmers took advantage of the pretty weather of the past ten days to burn plant land and a number of tobacco beds are now ready for the seed. Judging from the large area to be sown, planters are figuring on putting out a large crop. Farmers are well up with all kinds of work and are fully a month earlier than usual with their preparations for the tobacco crop.
